CUT COST OF LIVING

Woolen Company Opens Retail Stores in Lawrence, Mass.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 21.—(By A. P.)—The American Woolen Co. has inaugurated a system of retail stores at its four mills in this city in an effort to reduce the cost of living for the 15.000 operatives.

A central warehouse, from which each of the mill stores draws its stock, is administered by representatives of the company and a committee elected by the company and a committee elected by the operatives of the several mills, timately, it is planned to have workers finance and operate the stores themselves.

The warehouse now is distributing groceries, shoes, underclothes, sweaters. canned goods, overalls, socks and other staples. The prices are substantially those at wholesale plus a charge for overhead expenses.
